ARGENTINE RAILWAYS.

Nothing could afford a better proof of the real, solid progress of this country than the tables just published of the traffic of our railways last year. If we except the Primer Entre Riano, which is but a two-penny-half-penny line, only two leagues long, starts from nowhere and ends about the same place—all the railways in the Republic have given last year splendid profits. Even the Eastern Argentine Railway, that up to 1881 hardly earned sufficient to cover running expenses, we see made a clear profit last year of close on £10,000, and we much compliment Mr. Smart, the able manager of this road, on such a marked success. In fact, we believe now that, in a very few years, under its present able and economical management, the Eastern Argentine will earn sufficient to pay the Government guarantee of 7 per cent; and soon there will be no railway gurantee deficit figuring in our budget.

The general trade returns of a country, of course, form no very insignificant guide of how things stand in that country; still they are, perhaps, less eloquent than the traffic returns of the railways. People in Europe study more the railway than any other statistics. A dull season, or a poor crop, is reflected more in the goods and passenger traffic of the railways than in the excise duties paid, or the Custom House duties collected as with us here.

The year 1882 may be marked as a golden railway year in the Plate. We find one railway whose net profits almost touched one million patacones, and had we the returns of the Buenos Ayres Great Southern, it is probable that we should find its profits were much larger than those of the Central Argentine.

Although many parties view with distrust the present heavy business going on in estancia lands, we must admit we have no apprehension so long as we see the thousands of fresh hands arriving every month on these shores, and the natural corrollary to all this splendid immigration tide is a gigantic movement in everything throughout the country. The railway figures we show hereunder, show how we are all marching on. Industry in every province is increasing, and as a natural consequence produce follows in its wake; the goods trains speak out as plainly as the President of the Republic in his Message to Congress, and tell us all, that the greatest mistake in life is to suppose that the progress of this country and its rapid development are more conspicuous in the fashionable streets of the Capital than out on the frontier lands that now reecho to the lowing of cattle instead of the war whoop of the Indians, as some 3 years ago.

GENERAL STATISTICS OF THE ORIENTAL REPUBLIC OF URUGUAY.

The Oriental Republic of Uruguay occupies an extension of coast on the Atlantic Ocean, devoid of ports, but on entering the estuary of the Plate on its septentrional coast, beyond Cape Santa Maria, the Maldonado port is situated, and some 40 leagues higher up that of Montevideo; facing Buenos Ayres that of Colonia; and on the margin of the Oriental Republic three of Palmira, San Salvador, Soriano, Mercedes, Independencia, Paysandu, Salto; and on the Upper Uruguay, Constitucion and Santa Rosa, extending over a line of coast measuring 625 geographical miles.

The City of Montevideo is the capital of the Republic, and of the Department that bears its name and port, the only one on the River Plate that merits such a name. It resembles a horse shoe in formation, opening to the S.S.W., measuring at its entrance a mile and a half in width. Its bay affords perfect security for seafaring vessels, and its roads a splendid anchoring ground for vessels of heavier tonnage.

It is the calling station for vessels proceeding to Buenos Ayres and to the ports on the large affluents of the Plate, Parana and Paraguay, even as far as the Brazilian Province of Matto Grosso. It is also a good port for vessels and steamers bound for the Pacific.

The area of the Republic, 7,037 geographical square leagues, or 169,822 square kilometres, is divided into 15 departments. There are established in those 67 cities and towns, which contain some 20,000 city residences and 25,000 suburban, which are valued at not less than $600 each, according to the "Contribucion Directa." These 45,000 properties, possessed by about an equal number of owners in each family, which is calculated at five, proves that there are 225,000 proprietors, or nearly half of the entire population of the Republic. Estimating the value of these properties at 36,000,000 dollars, the corresponding part belonging to each proprietor should be $1600.

The grazing establishments held by private parties cover an extent of 14,000,000 hectares. On these there are 6,711,778 cows, 1,500,000 mares and horses, and 20,000,000 of sheep. There are 550,000 "novillos" killed by the 20 saladeros and graserias annually; 100,000 exported by land and 200,000 killed for home consumption. The wool is prepared by 75 barracas and made up in 43,980 bales of 1000 lbs. each, which is all exported, as also all other prepared annual production.

Agriculture is but in its infancy yet. There are some 200,000 hectares under cultivation, which give annually about 1,000,000 fanegas of wheat, 400,000 of maize and a few of other classes, together with vegetables of every description necessary for such a large population, and valued at about $6,000,000. The grinding of the wheat maintains 34 steam mills, 52 water and wind mills, and some 200 "atahonas." The above establishments are capable of working double the annual productions.

It is calculated that more than $10,000,000 are expended on the wire-fencing of the estancias.

It is also calculated that estate properties are mortgaged for more than $10,000,000.

It is the pastoral and agricultural production, which, owing to its necessities, its transports, its primary industrial transformations, the changes that it occasions, the constant movement in our export and import business which it begets, that gives occupation to the greater part of the population—that which sustains the activity of nearly all the other accessary industries—that which occasions the establishment of those large credit institutions, insurances, commercial and maritime agencies—that which gives employment to thousands who carry on the many transactions between the producer and consumer.

For the granting of "patentes" the various occupations are classed as follows:—300 manufactories of different classes, 33 wholesale houses, 153 barracas or deposits, 257 importing and exporting houses, 3 banks of emission, deposit and discount; 40 exchange offices, 29 auction marts, 13 houses for the sale of agricultural and industrial machinery, 35 hardware stores, 35 dry goods stores, 426 produce brokers' offices, 42 upholsterer's establishments with workshops, 33 hatters, 160 tailoring establishments, 412 boot stores, 848 almacens (wholesale and retail), 2673 pulperias, 163 hotels and lodging-houses, 412 "tiendas" and 400 establishments of the various trades. It is estimated that about 1000 men practise the liberal professions. When we add to these many industries, the increase which the growth of production must bring with it, the working of the mineral industry in the auriferous region of Cuñapiru, just initiated, and described by the eminent geologist, Professor Clemente Borrial Posarda, and which for the past two years has attracted great attention and caused the formation in Europe of several joint-stock companies, one of which represents a capital of 25 millions francs, 15 of which have already been sunk in the mines and works, etc., which gives employment to an increased number of hands, the demand for same will continue for some time.

LATEST FROM BRAZIL.

Yellow fever exhibits as yet no signs of decline, and the city mortuary returns even show some augment since our last, March closing with 15 cases per diem and the range from the 1st instant being between 11 and 20, exclusive of the still unreported mortality in the Jurujuba hospital, and of that from other severe forms of fever.

Reports were current last week of serious mortality from yellow fever among the Canary and other immigrants stationed at the private receptacles in suburbs of Nictheroy, but the reports have been contradicted and it is declared that there has been very little sickness among them and no yellow fever.

The immigrants at the government receptacle at Ilha das Flôres are also declared to be in excellent health and not only free from yellow fever but almost so from disease. In fact, this year the yellow fever epidemic has remained practically confined to the city itself, even the shipping, which in other years usually suffered greatly from the first, this time escaping nearly unscathed—a result which has apparently justified the somewhat vexatory measure of ordering all foreign vessels into the middle of the bay at the commencement of the hot season, a measure later extended to Brazilian ones also.

The Diario Official of the 1st of April declared that:—"the rumor in Europe relative to a new loan which the government of Brazil was intending to raise there at this time, has no foundation, and the Brazilian government has no present intention to make any loan abroad, or at home upon the bases of those of 1868 and 1879."—that is payable in gold.

In regard to the Port of Ceará improvement works, the Minister of Agriculture accepted on the 4th, out of the two tenders put in, that of Tobias Lauriano Figueira de Mello and Ricardo Lange, which asked only 6 years of the 6 per cent imperial guarantee, but 33 years of privilege of the working of the docks, etc.

The Jornal do Commercio is informed, in regard to the Misiones boundary negotiations in progress between the Brazilian and Argentine governments, that the former has received a reply, accompanied with a long Memorandum, to the Brazilian proposal, made some months ago, to revise the treaty of 1857, which the Argentine government has always refused to execute although ratified. Also, that the Summary of the last investigation into the Rio Hondo massacre has been received from Montevideo and is under consideration.

On the 31st of March about 750 infantry and marines and a frigate were sent off hurriedly to the province of Parana in consequence of a commercial agitation, attended with almost unanimous closure of doors and suspension of trade, which commenced on the 27th and continued for some days, against the obnoxious and vexatory provincial tax of 1½ per cent. on sales, imposed to fill up the deficit of 150;000$ caused by the repeal of the unconstitutional provincial taxation of imports, and of the President of Parana having telegraphed that, incited by the commercial body and by native demagogues, the foreigners were showing themselves dangerous and, in union with Brazilians, were causing disturbances at Curitiba, in one of which a rioter was killed, another badly wounded and a policeman hurt. Although the strike of the merchants, dealers and shopkeepers ceased at Curitiba on the 31st, the president still judged the presence there of the military force necessary as a warning to the foreign element, which he considered highly perilous and being exploited by demagogues.

In consequence of the withdrawal of so considerable a part of the military and naval force stationed at Rio, most of the troops at S. Paulo were brought to Rio on the 2d.

The custom house of Rio de Janeiro collected in the 1st quarter of 1883 from Imports and Exports 9,894:276$, against 9,358:504$ in the 1st quarter of 1883, viz;—8,639:084$ from Imports, against 8,628:032$ in 1882, and 1,225:190$ from Exports, against 1,730:466$ in 1882.

During the quarter the clearances of coffee were 840,847 bags, of the official taxable value of 17,246;446$, which 513,491 bags, valued at 9,708:820$, were for the U. States.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

LADY FLORENCE DIXIE.

THE STAR OF BETHLEHEM.

March 19, 1883.

The Berlin correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says:—The reappearance of the Star of Bethlehem is predicted by astronomers for this year or the next. On November 11, 1572, Tycho de Brahe discovered a star in Cassiopeia which equalled Sirius and even Venus in brightness for a month, and then fell back into its former insignificance. Conjecture has sought to establish a connection between this ephemeral phenomenon and two similar apparitions in 1264 and 945. A not unnatural inference was that the same increase in value of this remarkable star occurred before 945, which would bring us to about 630 and 310 and to the date of the Nativity. This star is now again due.

About time it was, say I, for the times are getting very much out of joint. On this occasion, one is spared the trouble of writing. There is nothing for it but to compile from printed accounts all that may interest you in regard to the latest atrocity, the attempted murder of Lady Florence Dixie, and show you what is said in regard to that event as well as the preceding enormity at Whitehall.

The next paragraph relating to Lady Florence Dixie is from this evening's Pall-Mall Gazette. I have selected it, because it seems to throw a kind of doubt on the affair. But, I fear, Lady Florence's statement is too circumstantial to be the product of hysteria:—

"Reports are published of an attempt to assassinate Lady Florence Dixie at her residence, The Fishery, near the Thames, and about two and a-half miles from Windsor. Lady Florence Dixie gives the following account of the occurrence:—

"I was out walking near The Fishery on Saturday evening, about 4.30, when two very tall women came up and asked me the time. I replied that I had not got my watch with me, and turning left them. Opening a small gate which led into the private grounds of Captain Brocklehurst, of the Blues, I made towards a stile, and was just going to get over, when I heard the gate open behind, and the two women followed me in. Somehow or other I felt all was not right, so I stopped and leaned against the rails, and then, as they came forward, went to meet them. One on the right come rapidly forward and seized me by the neck, when by the strength of the clutch I felt it was no woman's power that pulled me down to the ground. In another second I saw the other would-be woman over me, and remember seeing the steel of the knife come straight down upon me, driven by this person's hand. It struck through my clothes and against the whalebone of my stays, which turned the point, merely grazing the skin. The knife was quickly withdrawn and plunged at me again, I seized it with both hands and shouted as loud as I could, when the person who first pulled me down pushed a large handfull of earth into my mouth and nearly choked me. Just as the knife wns wrenched from my hands, a very big and powerful St. Bernard dog I had with me broke through the wood and the last thing I remember was seeing the person with the knife pulled backwards by him. Then I heard a confused sound of rumbling of wheels, and I remember no more. When I came to myself I was quite alone. From what I saw of the knife I believe it to be a dagger, and the persons were undoubtedly men. They were dressed in long clothes, and were unnaturally tall for women; the one who stabbed me had on a thick veil, reaching below the mouth; the other was unveiled, but his face I did not notice much. This is all the information I can give. My head is very confused and painful, and I expect they must have stunned me. This is a wretched scrawl, but my hands are very much cut, and it pains me greatly to write.

The Central News correspondent at Windsor states that the police have been indefatigable in their inquiries throughout the three counties of Berks, Buckingham and Oxfordshire, but without eliciting the slightest clue to the two supposed men in women's clothes who are stated to have attacked Lady Florence Dixie on Saturday afternoon. The statement of two women driving off in a light car, or of a woman dressed in green having been seen in Windsor, finds no corroboration, nor have the inquiries of the lock-keepers along the river elicited any information as to two such persons as Lady Florence Dixie describes having passed down the river in a boat.

The further the police pursue their investigations the more they appear puzzled by the whole circumstances of the case. They cannot account for two such very tall men, one dressed in a striking costume of green coming into a quiet country district without attracting the attention of many of the country people, nor can they explain the disappearance of the men from the scene either by road or river, without being noticed by many who could speak to the fact.

The ground where the outrage is said to have occurred was again carefully inspected last night, but afforded no evidence of a struggle having taken place. Had a dog of the massive stature of the St. Bernard Hubert attacked a man it is only conceivable that the soft ground would be torn up, but there are no evidences of a struggle either at the spot where Lady Florence Dixie is said to have been thrown down or anywhere near it. Again, no shred of torn clothing has been found, such as might have been expected in a struggle between a powerful dog and a man. The animal has again been carefully looked to, but he does not appear to have a scratch or an injury of any kind.

No doctor has been called in to see Lady Florence Dixie, and beyond the slight wound in the hand, there are no traces of any injuries on her ladyship. It is, indeed, both fortunate and remarkable that Lady Florence Dixie should have clutched such a formidable weapon as a dagger without inflicting any greater injury upon herself.

Her Majesty made inquiries this morning, through the Lord-in-Waiting, as to the health of Lady Florence Dixie.

The Standard says that the cowardly attack that was made upon Lady Florence Dixie at Windsor on Saturday will excite throughout the country a feeling of loathing and contempt not very easy to express in words. The outrage differs in kind from the more successful enterprise in Charles-street, but it points the same moral; and is a development of the same principle. One class of these dastardly Irish conspirators works with the knife, another deals only with explosives, a third developes itself to fostering and utilising whatever criminal energy local discontent supplies.

The Daily News says that the place was oddly chosen, for it is within a few yards of the high road. Footsteps were found there, looking as if they had been made in a struggle, and these are said to be the footprints of men. Scarcely anything else is known of this remarkable occurrence. Lady Florence Dixie, who says that she has had many threatening letters, is herself disposed to think that her animadversions upon the administration of its funds by the Land League has caused a brutal and dastardly attempt to be made upon her life. For these she has been denounced, as our New York Correspondent telegraphed some days ago, by Mr Sheridan, of Tubbercurry, and if any such connection should be established the affair will assume a very serious aspect indeed. For the present, we will hope that it is not so. The cowardice of Lady Florence Dixie's assailants is nothing new in the history of crimes directed by secret societies; but their remarkable clumsiness and stupidity are most uncommon in the records of organised outrage.

The Morning Post says that such crimes as these can only be met in one way, and that is by firm repression. The Government ought to spare neither men nor money. The detective force should be increased in power and efficiency. The reward offered in the case of the recent explosion, £1,000, is not a penny too much. And it might be well to subject all bank cheques to official inspection as well as telegrams, in order to get at the root of the organisation from which all this mischief springs.

The Irish Times says Lady Florence Dixie has shown nothing but kindness to the Irish people. She has long been a Nationalist in her principles, and it firmly believes, notwithstanding the attempt on her life, that she very largely enjoys the confidence and esteem of the Irish people, of rich and poor, of every class and creed and opinion. Some means should at once be taken to show how shocked and anguished the Irish people are at an attempt which ranks with the very worst crimes of an era grievously marked by inhuman deeds.

The Dublin Express says the outrage is the more shocking because the Queensberry family have been amongst the warmest admirers and friends of Ireland. Lady Florence has expressed a constant sympathy with the people in their demand for Home Rule. She has, with great success, endeavoured to dispel the delusion that the Land League leaders were patriots of the purest type, and that the Land League had benefited the Irish people. The attempt to assassinate her is the crowning infamy of her enemies.

The Globe says:—

"The assault took place, as it were, under the shadow of Windsor Castle, then occupied by the Queen; it was committed upon a woman; and assuming the connection, would tend to show that no private person who in the slightest degree offends the Irish Vehmgericht is held to be outside the pale of revenge. Whether the story is really connected with Lady Florence Dixie's attitude towards the Land League or not, there is every reason to fear that this may not be the last story of a similar kind."

"It will be almost strange if some catastrophe occuring in some centre of labour where many Irishmen are gathered together is not followed by a general attack upon the latter on the instinctive assumption that they must of necessity be the authors of all evil."

"It is only too easy, therefore, to picture a state of things as follows. No English employer of labour will venture to employ an Irishman, partly out of prudence, partly in order to keep at arm's length a very certain element of discord. The soldier will acquire the idea that the Irish are our natural enemies, who import the conditions of war into what is supposed to be a time of peace. The large Irish colonies in our great towns will be thrown out of work, and into the position of hostile populations—as alien in sentiment, as well as in race, from the English labourer or artisan as is the Jew from the Russian or German. Every misfortune not otherwise to be accounted for on the surface would instinctively be set down to Irish hands. We know what has happened elsewhere in the case of the Jews, nor may we dare to assert that what has been found possible in other countries is impossible in our own. Under such circumstances, a conflagration may ensue from the lighting of a single straw. It would be unspeakably terrible if, when the public sentiment was fully prepared to explode into action, some such straw should take fire, and if the masses should be provoked to take summary and wholesale vengance upon the Irishmen among us for a long debt of real and imaginary wrongs."

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

France seems to have finished with her seven years of plenty. She is unable to compete with Germany, England and America, who produce more cheaply, from manual labor being less costly or factories producing in vaster quantities. Then the Italians, Germans, Spaniards and Belgians, whose remuneration at home is low, emigrate to France, and consider themselves well-paid at prices that French artizans despise. The Courts have just prohibited French button makers from having their goods manufactured in Germany, at a saving thereby in labor of 20 per cent, and introducing the product as turned out here. The building trade is next to at a stand still. The palatial mansions run up find no tenants at the rents demanded, but which are necessary to merely ensure 4 to 5 per cent on capital invested. Rents, taxation, and the price of the necessaries of life are exorbitant in Paris, so that the bread-winner out of work very soon becomes crushed.

The Budget for 1884 will exceed last year's by 54 millions of francs; the greater part of the augmentation is under the head of Tunisia. Leon Say lately observed when presenting his budget; "As France marches, she marches with more difficulty." Since 1869 the National Debt has almost doubled. It is now over 31/10th. milliards If taxation continues to increase; if business remains dull; if street rows continue; if Parliament fritters away its time; the Republic cannot count upon a clean bill of health being continued.

A very curious trial is to come off. Dr. Monnet on passing along the street, encountered a man just run over by a vehicle; he ordered the sufferer to be carried to a Chemist's shop close by and prescribed some mixture. The man died, his identity could not be established, and the chemist sent the bill for the prescription, two francs, to Monnet for settlement. The doctor swore by the head of Æsculapius he would not notice such impertinence. Summons upon summons followed, to come and appear in court; he paid no attention to these paper pellets till one day the bailiffs arrived and seized his penates for 2 fr. plus 34 frs. law expenses. The next day two policemen came and walked the doctor to the judge, to explain his contempt of court. Rumors flew as to Monnet's probity and morality; he lost his practice, and more, the wealthy young lady he was engaged to refused to wed him. Monnet has brought an action against the chemist.

Scandal will not allow the poor Duchesse de Chaulnes to rest in the cold shade of her tomb. Her family authorise the statement, that the duchess did not die of consumption, but of Chloral-taking, a habit she had acquired "before her marriage"—which took place when she was only sweet sixteen. She did not want means, as she had her diamonds to fall back upon. Now the deceased swore on the trial the diamonds presented to her on her marriage were all paste. Yet at the time Parisians made a pilgrimage to view her 'corbeille.'

Some weeks ago the police found the uniform of a Zouave on the banks of the Seine: they had the river dragged for the once owner. The latter has just turned up, demanding at the Lost Articles Office, if they had such a uniform, as it was his, that he was going to sell, as he was discharged on completing his service. He left it on the bank and forgot it, while viewing some men fishing.

It may not be generally known, that the late Prince Gortschakoff was the type of the Baron Grog in the 'Grande Duchesse.'

The question is discussed, that the ladies under the Republic are not so beautiful as under the Second Empire. As an eye witness of both régimes, this is not correct. Only the toilettes of the day are very different. Oh, elegance what crimes are committed in thy name. The most beautiful of the newest costumes does not make the wearer a Venus de Milo.

Visitor to artist: "But your Sampson has no locks." "I know that: the Exhibition is on the eve of opening: I cannot add them, so the picture will represent him after being shorn."

Two friends: "It is an age since I saw you: last year you were going to be divorced; are you all right now?" "Yes, since my wife is buried."

THE EXPLOSION IN LONDON.

Inquiry at Scotland-yard this morning showed that notwithstanding all the exertions of the police there was at present no clue to the miscreants who planned and carried out the outrage at Charles-street on the Local Government Board Office. To-day the interest appears to be somewhat falling off, only comparatively a very small number of people being attracted to the scene. The carpenters and glaziers are still hard at work at the Government offices and the surrounding buildings, the post office having a new shop front put in it, as the old one was blown to fragments. The room outside which the explosion took place, and those immediately adjoining and above it, have been boarded up for the present. Every particle of dust and lime in the neighborhood has been carefully collected, and will be sifted to try and find anything of either a fuse or portions of the canister which contained the combustibles.

The large crowds that thronged the neighbourhood of the explosion both on Saturday and yesterday plainly testify to the great public interest taken in the matter. At either end of Charles-street barriers are erected, and only those having actual business at some of the Government offices to which access is gained by this portion of the thoroughfare, or influential gentlemen, or members of Parliament, are admitted. These, however, have been numerous in seeking access, amongst the visitors yesterday being Lord Edmond Fitzmaurice, General Macdonald, Colonel the Hon. Rupert Carington, and others. From early morning yesterday until dusk the crowd was very great, and the police had some difficulty at times in at all regulating the traffic. Extra men were put on duty at every point, and the utmost diligence was observed in keeping the large mass of people moving, as, although there was little to see, they persisted in gazing as though expecting that something fresh would happen.

The American journals again express their surprise at the English estimate of the importance of the assassin press. The Sun, in particular, asserts that after the harmlessness "of the cowardly crew of so-called Fenians, if the English newspapers could be made to comprehend with what contempt and ridicule Rossa's proclamations and pretensions are regarded throughout the States, they would stop their wretched drivel about American sympathy with Irish ruffianism." Probably the writer was not aware of the last production of the Fenian workshop. The maker of the infernal machines recently shipped by the Bavarian states that they were automatic machines which at a given instant will produce a volume of flame equal to one hundred gas jets, but much hotter. He also recently delivered four explosive machines of the size of a cigar box, with an energy equal to nine hundred pounds of gunpowder. The maker says he is merely a mechanic, and he considers that his part has ended when the machines are delivered and paid for.

The World to-day anticipates an exodus of assassins to the States, and emphasises the need of a definitiou of political crimes. It asks what the States would do if confederated Europe demanded the giving up as criminals of men who are certainly political offenders.

A Dublin telegram says:—The comments of the English press on the London explosion and the implication of Mr. Parnell's party with the various outrages have resulted in a determination to present Mr. Parnell with such a testimonial as will be a fitting rejoinder to the attacks made upon him. A subscription of £50 by the Archbishop of Cashel and others, making nearly £100 received to-day, and an announcement by the Freeman's Journal that it will open a Parnell fund, show that the movement will be vigorously pursued, notwithstanding Mr. Parnell's refusal to receive a pecuniary recognition of his services.

The Senegale's Mails.

London, March 20th.

In the House of Lords yesterday Lord Stratheden and Campbell called attention to the foreign policy of her Majesty's Government, and a brief debate ensued, in which Earl Granville and the Marquis of Salisbury took part. The Irish Sunday Closing Bill passed through Committee.

In the House of Commons, the Home Secretary, in reply to a question, announced that it was intended to add five hundred men to the Metropolitan police; and in the meantime the military authorities had been asked to lend their assistance in the protection of public buildings. The Prime Minister, in answer to an inquiry, stated after consultation with Sir W. Harcourt, that he had no information respecting the reported attack on Lady Florence Dixie which would be of value to the House. Mr Chamberlain moved the second reading of the Bankruptcy Bill, the cardinal principle of which he described as a security for an independent and impartial examination in every case. Mr Stanhope moved an amendment declaring that the House, while anxious to remedy the proved defects in the existing law and practice in baukruptcy, was not prepared to entrust the powers proposed in the Bill to any department of the Government. The debate upon this occupied a considerable portion of the sitting.

Her Majesty held a Council at Windsor yesterday, at which Lord Carlingford was declared Lord President. The Archbishop of Canterbury was introduced and sworn as a member of the Privy Council.

A Correspondent in Paris states that Mr Parnell, with whom he had an interview yesterday, intends to return to London to-morrow or Thursday, and will probably sail for New York some days later; but the date of his visit to America is not yet fixed.

In the French Chamber yesterday M. Baudry d'Asson, a Legitimist, called attention to the destitution prevailing among the working classes in Paris, and proposed a grant of two million francs for their relief. Mr. Jules Ferry opposed the proposal that the motion should be considered urgent, and said that on the reassembling of the House after the Easter recess the Government would take the matter in hand. The motion was negatived.

Further official despatches respecting Egypt have been laid before Parliament. Among them is Lord Dufferin's Report on the reorganization of the country, dated Cairo, Feb. 6.

Our Correspondent at Alexandria says that the traffic in the Suez Canal has recently been most uncertain, and that the mail steamers are frequently delayed. There are now, he adds, 20 ships in sight of Suez unable to get out, and 20 in the Suez roads waiting to enter.

Our New York Correspondent telegraphs that the reported attack on Lady Florence Dixie following so closely upon the explosion excites amazement and indignation. The most noticeable effect, he adds, is to destroy sympathy with the Irish cause in the newspapers and among the people.

We publish to-day further statements respecting the alleged attempt upon the life of Lady Florence Dixie, but nothing has come to the knowledge of the authorities which can in any way throw light upon the circumstances of the reported outrage.

Yesterday the annual meeting of the Middle-Class Schools Corporation was held at the Mansion House, the Lord Mayor presiding. The report of the council was adopted on the motion of Mr. Freshfield, M.P., the tone of this document and the general working of the school being regarded as satisfactory.

Lord Coleridge, with Lords Justices Brett and Bowen, had before him yesterday the case of Chamberlain v. Boyd, on an appeal from a decision of Mr Justice Field with respect to a demurrer to certain paragraphs in the plaintiff's statement of claim. At the conclusion of the arguments, the Court expressed a unanimous opinion that Messrs Chamberlain had failed to establish any cause of action, and allowed the demurrer.

The Lord Mayor has opened a fund at the Mansion House for the alleviation of the distress in the western islands of Scotland, excepting Lewis, for which a special fund has been raised and remitted.

Mr Arther Cohen, M.P., presided last evening at a meeting held at the Westminster Palace Hotel, when addresses were delivered on the question of London municipal reform, and resolutions were carried, urging the Minister to introduce their promised measure with the least possible delay.

At yesterday's sitting of the Central Criminal Court, Robert Palmer, a labourer, was convicted of having forged and uttered a Post-office order with intent to defraud. He was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment with hard labour.

In the stock markets yesterday home railway stocks gave way upon the wet weather and on the satisfactory traffic returns of the southern companies. Brighton "A" fell 1 per cent. Foreign Government stocks were strong in the early part of the day, but the best prices were not maintained. Canadian railway stocks showed a recovery and American closed firm. Consols remained at 102 to ⅝ for money, and 102 3/16 to 5/16 for the account. £84,000 in gold was taken from the Bank for the Continent.

BRITISH HOSPITAL.

The Annual General Meeting of the subscribers of this institution, was held at the School-room of St. John's Church, on April 18th, with the following attendance—

Captain W B Pauli, in the Chair.

Dr. Hiron, Messrs Miles, Neild, Getting, Rodger, Salisbury, Bouwer, Wanklyn, Tucker, Krabbé, Runciman and Carroll.

Much regret was expressed at the little interest taken by the public in the Institution, as evidenced by the scanty attendance at the meetings.

The Report was taken as read, the Secretary, Mr Rodger, calling the attention of the meeting to certain printers' errors on page 10. In the comparitive tables of sums expended in the years 1881 and 1882, the years are reversed, and on page 11 in the amounts received in 1881, the sum placed opposite Fees should be subscriptions, Dues should be Fees, Benefits and Legacies should be Dues, and Interest should be Benefits and Legacies; there being no interest in 1881.

The Chairman in moving the adoption of the Report and Accounts, made a few remarks upon the satisfactory state of the finances and the harmonious working of the Hospital staff, and also remarked upon the large proportion of free patients treated during the year past.

He recapitulated the steps that had been taken with regard to the question of a new Hospital, and hoped that more money would be forthcoming to add to the sum already available for that purpose, thanks to the disinterested and generous efforts made by the ladies and gentlemen who had taken part in the Bazaar, held in September 1882.

After a general discussion upon the various matters treated of in the Report and accounts, the motion for approval was seconded by Mr Bouwer, put to the meeting, and carried unanimously.

To fill the vacancies in the Committee caused by the retirement of Messrs Huxtable, Getting and Rodger, an election then took place with the following result—

For the Committee—
Mr. Patricio Ham
H. R Rodger
James H. Getting

As Suplentes—
Mr. George Cooper
C S Bowers
John Drysdale, Sr.

Votes of thanks were proposed and carried to the out-going Committee; to the Rev. Dr. Smith for the use of the school-room, to Captain Pauli for the able manner in which he had filled the Chair.

The proceedings terminated at 5 p.m.

EDITORS' TABLE

The weather was so cold yesterday that we felt inclined to publish the Essay on Blankets we received a few days ago, but, on second thoughts, we hold it till the thermometer falls 20 degrees more. Then will be the time for it to produce its proper effect.

We give a lot of news from Europe in another column. The assault on Lady Dixie is an uncommonly queer affair. Either she is bewitched or the police are.

There was very little news of any kind yesterday, and the opening of Congress will be a thrice happy help for many of our large colleagues, whose vast sheets are now most somniferous reading. President Roca is preparing his Message to Congress, and it ought to be a labour of love for H.E., as he has nothing but pleasant news to give the nation and its Parliament.

There is splendid news for hard-up and broken-down editors by the Senegale. One of the numerous Baronesses de Rothshild is founding a sumptuous "Home" for them near Versailles. All nationalities eligible for admission. Hurrah! Your most obedient, Baroness!

Governor Roach returned suddenly to town yesterday, having been summoned by telegraph to the bedside of his little son, Dardo, who is suffering from croup, but we trust will speedily rally.

The Police scandal about two employes having abducted two respectable girls is not true. The whole thing amounts to a disgraceful orgy in which a Commissary and several of his subalterns were joined by half a dozen girls whose respectability is a good deal more than doubtful. The Chief of Police has made short work of the offenders and dismissed them all, as such pranks on the part of important police officials are a little "trop fort," to say the least of it. No man should be made a Commissary of Police till he has sown, reaped, garnered and finally disposed of his whole crop of "wild oats."

The Reforma of Asuncion of the 5th inst. contains a protest of Mr Horrocks about his row with Dr Stewart. It is addressed to H.M. Chargé d'Affaires in this city, Mr. H. N. Dering. Mr. H. says, that his house was broken open by the police, who took a wall-clock and six chairs; that Dr Stewast, H.M. Vice Consul in Asuncion, was the cause of the bobbery; as six years ago he sent a yerba grinding machine to the San Salvador Colony, to sell it to Alston & Co, but they refused to buy it, as there was not a yerba plant within 100 leagues of the colony; that when Dr Mc Donald, partner of Alston & Co. died, he (Horrocks) received powers to wind up the concern, amongst the inventory of which was the machine in question, which he took to Asuncion; that Dr Steward claimed it, and he was willing to give it up if the Dr paid the freight, as he it was who had sent the machine to Alston, without orders, and the estate was not liable for the freight; that Stewart sued him for the machine and the whole affair being so paltry he consented to give up the machine, but the Custom House had a claim on it for two years' deposit—30 pats; that Stewart then sued him for this amount, but that, as he had long previously ceased to represent Alston & Co., having wound up their affairs, he referred the doctor to Dr Alston, sole partner in the concern. The foregoing is Mr Horrocks's side of the question. We gave the policeman's side yesterday, and now await Dr Stewart's, in this remarkable triangular duel, all about thirty wretched patacons.

We deeply regret to announce the death of Father Clement, of the Passionist Order, after a long and painful illness. The sad event took place yesterday morning, at the Spanish Hospital, at 10 o'clock. During the day the remains of the lamented clergyman were removed to the Caridad Chapel, where an Office for the Dead and Mass will be celebrated this morning at 9 o'clock, after which the remains will be interred in the Recoleta Cemetery. We offer Father Kent Stone our sincere condolence on the loss of such a truly zealous and exemplary coadjutor.

M. Lavertujon, the new French Minister to this republic, will not be able to assume his post here for some time, as he is very ill.

Our enterprising colleague, El Diario began yesterday to publish the commencement of a series of biographies which cannot fail to interest the reader coming from the celebrated and duly appreciated poet, Perez Bonaldi, of New York. This first essay will be continued to-morrow, and we congratulate our contemporary on having secured such a valuable correspondent.

Mr. and Mrs. John Drysdale have issued invitations to a grand ball on the 26th inst. From what is said in fashionable "salons" it will be a splendid entertainment.

The list of the events at the Junior Athletic Society's meeting, to come off on May 3rd, will close to-morrow at five, p.m., at 60 Calle Cangallo.

There is an earthquake in the local Tea trade. At the well-known Tea Depot at the corner of Piedad, opposite the London and River Plats Bank, they have now on sale the famous White Tea of the Land of Pigtails, price $200 m/c and $300 m/c per lb!!! This is this first time such Tea has been seen in this market, and there is a crowd round the window all-day gaping at the figure $200 m/c per lb! A subscriber who bought some of this Tea tells us it is wonderful! Those who can afford it, should make haste to secure it, as we believe the consignment

ON 'CHANGE.

	April 19th, 1883
Patacon	25.00
Cedulas A	100⅝
Cedulas E	86
National Bank Shares	105⅝

Affairs on the Bolsa rule very dull, Cedulas and Bank Shares are not only very little dealt in, but they look as if on the eve of a departure downward unless the market receives a fresh stimulant either from the entry of outsiders or good telegrams from London. The men at the ring live in hope. Gradually as we approach the end of the month there comes a species of artificial capital for stocks; people who know thoroughly the market, and who make their regular 18 o/o on their money by taking up stocks cash at the month's "vencimientos", selling them for the end of the following month at a difference of from 1 to 1½ in the price: due to this dangerous system the ring has been able to carry stocks and hold up prices certainly for the last six months, that the break will come and must come is as clear as noon-day: the only question is, when. Our speculative stocks rule very dead, and the market seems to lack the power to galvanize new life into them. It is not at the ring that the great market business is now carried on, but at the landbrokers offices. The great news in the market this morning was the sale by Messrs. Hughes & Vernet, the eminent estancia landbrokers, 13 square leagues of Messrs. Salas and Cernada's fine Gainza lands on their usual long credits, at the rate of $225,000 % per league; Mr. John Duggan, estanciero, Fortin de Areco, buyer. We congratulate Mr. Duggan on his purchase, and trust that before the bills fall due the land will be cheap at double the purchase money.
Cedulas Series A seem strong enough at 100⅝; the fear of good news from Paris has hold this splendid stock in check. We hear that Dr. Llambi Campbell refuses the offer of a London banker of five millions patacons on Series A at 80, 5 o/o per annum and 3 o/o commission, and 1 o/o commission for paying coupon. Series E rules very weak, cash 86; for end of April they opened at 86½ and closed at 86; and for May 86½. Total day's sales 106,000. National Bank Shares 300 sold cash, opening at 105⅞ and closing at 105⅝. For April prices gave way, opening at 106½, dropping to 105⅞ and closing at 106; and for May 700, starting at 107⅜, tumbling to 106⅞, and closing at 107⅛. Sales only 1,750.
Mr. Casado, banker of Rosario, has arrived down and was welcomed on 'Change. The exchange brokers are well pleased to see him. We hear that he is now in no hurry whatever to pass his bills, and that for the last week he has been drawing slowly up in Rosario.
Exchange here rules decidedly down, and the large absorption of bills for the last week has been by one of our private banks for account of a Montevidean Bank. Bills to day rule scarce, but the rate cannot be marked higher than 49⅜ on London, 5.19 on France, 5.18 on Paris. The great peculiarity we note in the exchange market is that the fresh credit operation for £200,000 negotiated by Acosta & Alkaine for the National Government, and the Provincial Bank of Sta Fé having £600,000 to draw, and the National Bank having also to draw now that the General Bond is gone forward. The Provincial Bank also having to draw or bring out the gold. All these seem in nothing to influence the iron rates of this most extraordinary exchange market.
The sales at the ring were as follows:—
Cedulas—
For cash A 5,000 at 100⅝
For cash E 16,000 at 86
For April 30th E 80,000 at 86½-86
For May 31st E 5,000 at 86½
Sales, 106,000
National Bank Shares—
For cash 300 at 105⅞-⅝
For April 30th 750 at 106½-105½-106
For May 31st 700 at 107⅛-¼-⅛-107-106⅞ to 107⅛
Sales, 1,750
Some 15 days ago, many of our best exchange brokers and many of our leading importers expected that for this coming French mail exchange on London would be 49⅜ or 50d, but the contrary is the fact, which overcomes our judgment.
It is rumoured from Montevideo that the great Cunapiru Gold Mine Company has burst up. This is indeed most unwelcome news, and we trust there is no foundation for the report, which was so much spoken about on 'Change; possibly Oriental politics may have something to do with it.
Governor Rocha has returned from the camp, owing to the illness of one of his children.
Discount brokers say that money is much easier, and large sums offered on stock.
Chevalier Kier, Commander of steamer Montevideo, was warmly welcomed on 'Change after his long absence from the R. Plate. He has been down to the Boca making soundings for his steamer to enter the Boca, and he reports plenty of water, but deficient arrangements for discharging; no deposits, sheds, &c.; and he hopes that the Government will see to have these erected, as otherwise large European steamers cannot use the Boca.
Discount brokers say that the Provincial and National Banks discounted very largely yesterday; at the private banks the managers keep the money for their customers and do everything in the line of pagarés.
Exchange this afternoon very flat, and no more bills at 3 on London to be had. People are now taking exchange from the Provincial Bank at 49½. Reichsmarks 4.19, francs 5.20, Antwerp 5.18, Paris 5.19. Some of the brokers say that the taking power of the market averages now £800,000 to one million sterling, which is very heavy.
Mr Moller, who leaves to-morrow in the ss. General Werder, took leave of his many friends on 'Change; he will return in Oct. Colonel Winter, Governor of Patagonia, will leave for Viedma on Sunday in Villarino.
We learn from Mr. J P Boyd, that on the splendid estancia Las Cabezas, Entre Rios, cattle are always marked without the lasso, as they have put up Australian brets, which does the work of 40 gauchos, 40 'recados' and 40 'lassos'. We hope the manager will kindly send us a report on the Bret system.
Wool dull; one lot 1,000 at Fernandez; sold reserved price.
Deuda Amortizable is down in Montevideo, price to-day 17. They say that there is a new issue of this debt coming to pay off claims &c.

THE MOST PERFECT AND THE MOST ECONOMICAL COOKING RANGES IN THE WORLD!

ABENDROTH'S "UNCLE SAM" RANGES

Awarded, THE ONLY GOLD MEDAL for Ranges of this class at the Paris Exhibition 1878.
THE ONLY SPECIAL PRIZE OF MERIT, together with Gold Medal at the Sydney Exhibition 1880. In competition with other Ranges from England, France, Belgium, the United States, etc.
These Ranges and Stoves which attracted so much attention and were so highly commended at the late Exhibition in this city, can now be obtained in great variety of size and style, at the manufacturer's depôt, just opened at

91—CALLE MAIPU—91

Special adaptations have been made to meet the peculiar requirements of this country.
One of the most valuable features in these Ranges and Stoves, is, that each part is made interchangeable, and extra pieces will always be kept on hand; thus, after years of use should any part require to be repaired, it can immediately and easily by replaced by a new piece at a comparatively trifling cost.

Ranges and Stoves will be Exhibited in operation.

Ademas es sabido que esta raza es inmejorable para nuestros campos de pastos fuertes, donde este animal procrea admirablemente y hoy sobre todo, que la cuestion de la exportacion de nuestras carnes puede decirse esta resuelta, conviene mucho a nuestros criadores tener esta especie por los tamaños y gorduras.

Dysentery, Cholera Fever, Ague, Coughs, Colds, &c.
Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne
(Ex Army Medical Staff)
IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr Browne's—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than
Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.
REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates health action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.
CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.
CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests too often fatal diseases Diphtheria Fever, Crup, Ague.
CHLORODYNE acts like a charming Diarrhoea, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.
CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.
CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, Jan. 5th 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London—"Dear Sir, we embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly-esteemed medicine, DR COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE in Diarrhoea, and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomitting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhoea, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a "deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescriber and patient alike." We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists."

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all classes."

CAUTION—None genuine without the words 'Dr J. Collis Browne or the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Invaluable at the Diggings and in the Bush, also on board Ship, as small loaves of the best Bread or Scones can be made in a few minutes without the aid of Yeast.

Private Ward, during the Zulu war, writes:—"I should just like you to see the real farm-house bread that I bake! The oven is one dug in the ground, and is just large enough to hold our daily quantum of two loaves. We use flour, water, salt, and BORWICK'S BAKING POWDER. My bread often surprises me, it is so light, and white as snow. Some of our men will insist that I have been 'in the trade,' and nothing I can say will convince them to the contrary."
Four Gold Medals awarded. Manufactory:—G. BORWICK & SONS, Chiswell Street, London.
